01-6 Continued analysis, on an individual basis, of the effectiveness and efficiency of new and existing tools. The NAIC is making available a new electronic examination and analysis management system called TeamMate 2000. During FY2001 we will evaluate this system to see if the efficiency and timeliness of the financial statement analysis can be improved.

07-2 Because of changes in the reconciliation methods and changes in the methods used to enter data into NIIMS, the distribution of the Premium tax was completed one week before the statutory deadline. In past years, the distribution was done after the deadline date or done at the deadline date.
